7. COMMISSION AND CHARGES

- 7.1. In addition, the Client shall pay or reimburse GTJAS forthwith on demand all commission, brokerage, levies, fees, duties and taxes and all other charges and expenses incurred by GTJAS arising out of or in connection with any trade entered into by GTJAS on behalf of the Client or otherwise arising out of or in connection with the performance of any of GTJAS' duties under this Agreement. All such amounts may be deducted from the Account.
- 7.2. Every trade executed or settled on the relevant exchange, clearing house or trading venue shall be subject to any levies or charges that such exchange, clearing house or trading venue may from time to time impose. GTJAS is authorized to collect from the Client any such levies or charges.

8. QUOTES, MARKET INFORMATION, RESEARCH AND INTERNET LINKS

Quotes, news, research and information accessible through GTJAS ("Information") may be prepared by independent providers. The Information is the property of GTJAS, the providers or their licensors and is protected by law. Client agrees not to reproduce, distribute, sell or commercially exploit the Information in any manner without written consent of GTJAS or the providers. GTJAS reserves the right to terminate access to the Information. None of the Information constitutes a recommendation by GTJAS or a solicitation to buy or sell. Neither GTJAS nor the providers guarantee accuracy, timeliness, or completeness of the Information, and Client should consult an advisor before making investment decisions. Reliance on quotes, data or other information is at client's own risk. GTJAS does not warrant in any fashion, and is not responsible for, the accuracy or timeliness of the Information. In no event will GTJAS or the providers be liable for any loss arising from use of the Information. There is no warranty of any kind, express or implied, regarding the information, including warranty of merchantability, warranty of fitness for a particular use, or warranty of non-infringement.

9. MARGIN

- 9.1. In respect of all US Securities Trading in a US Account entered into by GTJAS on behalf of the Client, the Client shall before the relevant trade is entered into provide GTJAS with such Margin together with such guarantees and other security in such form and amount and on such terms as GTJAS may in its absolute discretion require from time to time. The Client shall monitor the Account so that at all times, without notice or demand, it shall contain a sufficient balance to meet the applicable Margin requirements. Such Margin shall be maintained with GTJAS and the Client shall not withdraw the same until the close out of the trade or otherwise settled or terminated, unless otherwise agreed by GTJAS and the Client. GTJAS shall be entitled to refuse to execute the Client's Instruction if there is insufficient Margin in the US Account and may delay the processing of any order until GTJAS is satisfied with the margin status of the US Account.

- 9.2. The Client agrees to maintain such Margin and shall pay or deliver additional Margin or any other payment in connection with any trade entered into on the Client's behalf under the terms of this Agreement. The amounts required by way of Margin should not be less than, but may exceed, the amounts as may be required by the Rules, the relevant exchange, the relevant clearing house or the relevant execution broker of GTJAS in respect of the Client's trade, and further Margin may be required to reflect changes in market value. The Client acknowledges that the Margin requirements for open and new positions can be modified at any time in GTJAS' sole discretion. In addition, the Margin requirements or risk control parameters may include leverage ratio limits or position size limits for securities, commodities, currencies or other products (for example, such limits or controls may cause the gross position value of the US Account to exceed the equity of the US Account and/or the unsettled currency transactions to exceed the equity of the US Account). These limits address situations in which there may be little or no apparent market risk in holding a position but there may be excessive settlement or other risk. If these limits are reached or exceeded, the Client may not be able to engage in new trades and existing positions may be liquidated without notice in respect of the US Account.
- 9.3. The Client acknowledges that the market values/prices used to compute the equity in any US Account, and/or to compute the Margin requirements may differ from the values/prices disseminated by exchanges or other market data sources, including the index values, exchange traded fund value or derivatives values. The Client acknowledges that the valuation methodology used for the US Securities Trading may be more conservative than the marketplace as a whole and that this may effectively constitute a higher "house" margin requirement, which GTJAS has a right to establish.
- 9.4. If GTJAS accepts securities by way of Margin ("Margin Securities"), the Client will on request provide GTJAS with such authority as GTJAS may require under the Rules to authorise GTJAS to deliver such securities, directly or through an exchange participant, to an exchange or a relevant clearing house as collateral resulting from the Client's instructions to GTJAS to the extent required for or in connection with provision of the Services.
- 9.5. All initial and subsequent deposits and payments for Margin and other purposes shall be made in cleared funds and in such currency and in such amounts as GTJAS may in its sole discretion require.
- 9.6. Without prejudice to Clause 9.2 above, GTJAS shall be entitled to revise Margin requirements from time to time in its absolute discretion. The Client acknowledges that GTJAS is not under any obligation to notify the Client of any changes in Margin requirements. In particular, the Client understands that GTJAS will be under no obligation to provide or continue to provide any Margin related services if any of the following circumstances arises:-
- (a) the Client is in default of any provision of any terms under this Agreement, the Securities Trading Agreement or any margin offer letter which GTJAS may elect to deliver to the Client, including, without limitation, any Event of Default shall have occurred and is continuing; or
 - (b) in the opinion of GTJAS there is or has been a material adverse change in the Client's financial condition or in the financial condition of any person which might adversely affect Client's ability to discharge his liabilities or perform his obligations under the this Agreement, the Securities Trading Agreement or any margin offer letter which GTJAS may elect to deliver to the Client; or
 - (c) making an advance would cause the applicable Limits and/or other limits and controls under Clause 9.2 to be exceeded; or
 - (d) GTJAS in its absolute discretion considers it prudent or desirable for its protection not to do so.
- 9.7. GTJAS has no obligation to notify the Client of any failure to meet the Margin requirements prior to GTJAS' exercising its rights and remedies under this Agreement and the Rules. The Client understands that GTJAS generally will not issue margin calls, that GTJAS generally will not (and is under no obligation to) credit the US Account to meet intraday Margin deficiencies; and that GTJAS is authorised to liquidate positions (or add risk-reducing positions) in the US Account in order to satisfy Margin requirements without prior notice to the Client.
- 9.8. In performing risk management services for the Client, GTJAS has no obligation to notify the Client of any failure to meet the risk management requirements for the US Account. GTJAS generally will not issue calls. GTJAS generally will not (and is under no obligation to) credit the US Account to meet deficiencies and GTJAS is authorised to liquidate positions in the US Account (or adding risk-reducing positions) in order to satisfy risk management requirements without prior notice to the Client.

- 9.9. Without prejudice to Clauses 9.7 and 9.8 above, failure by the Client to meet Margin requirements, any deficiencies or any other accounts payable hereunder (even where such Margin requirements are not communicated to the Client) shall give GTJAS the right (without prejudice to other rights) to close out open positions in respect of which any Margin requirements are not met without notice to the Client and to dispose of any or all assets of the Client in any account maintained with GTJAS or its Affiliates, whether such account is individually or jointly owned by the Client, and to apply the proceeds and any cash deposit(s) to pay GTJAS all outstanding balances owing to GTJAS. Any monies remaining after that application shall be refunded to the Client. Client shall be liable and will promptly pay GTJAS for any deficiencies in Client's account that arise from such disposal or remain after such disposal. GTJAS has no liability for any loss sustained by Client in connection with such disposal even if Client re-establishes its position at a worse price.
- 9.10. If a debit balance arises on any of the Client's Account(s), GTJAS shall not be, nor shall GTJAS be deemed to be, obliged to make available or continue to make available any financial accommodation. In particular, the fact that GTJAS permits a debit balance to arise in any Account(s) so debited shall not imply any obligation on the part of GTJAS to advance monies or incur any obligation on the Client's behalf.
- 9.11. Client acknowledges and agrees that GTJAS will deduct commissions and various other fees from the Account and that such deductions may affect the amount of equity to be applied against the Margin requirements. Account positions are subject to liquidation as described in this Agreement if deduction of commissions, fees or other charges causes the Account to have an insufficient balance to satisfy the Margin requirements.
- 9.12. Liquidation of Positions
- (a) In the event that the US Account has zero equity or is in deficit at any time, or the US Account does not have a sufficient account balance to meet Margin requirements, or if the US Account exceeds leverage limits or position size limits, GTJAS shall have the right, in its sole discretion, but not the obligation, to liquidate all or any part of the positions in any Account (or add risk-reducing positions) of any kind held by Client with GTJAS, at any time and in such manner and in any market as GTJAS deems necessary, without prior notice or Margin call to the Client. The Client agrees to be responsible for, and promptly pay to GTJAS, any deficiencies in any US Account that arise from such liquidation or remain after such liquidation. GTJAS will not have any liability to the Client for any loss or damages sustained by GTJAS in connection with such liquidations (or if any systems relevant for providing the US Securities Trading (Segregated Account) Services experiences a delay in effecting, or does not effect such liquidations) even if the Client subsequently re-establishes positions at a less favorable price.
- (b) In performing risk management for the Client in connection with the US Account, in the event that the US Account has zero equity or is in deficit at any time, or the US Account does not have a sufficient balance to meet the risk management requirements or if the US Account exceeds leverage limits or position size limits, GTJAS shall have the right, in its sole discretion, but not the obligation, to liquidate all or any part of the positions in any Account (or add risk reducing positions), at any time and in such manner and in any market GTJAS deems necessary without prior notice or "call" or to the Client. The Client agrees to be responsible for, and promptly pay to GTJAS any deficiencies in any US Account that arise from such liquidation or remain after such liquidation. GTJAS will not have any liability to the Client for any losses or damages sustained by GTJAS in connection with such liquidations (or if any systems relevant for providing the US Securities Trading (Segregated Account) Services experiences a delay in effecting, or does not effect such liquidations) even if the Client subsequently re-establishes positions at a less favorable price.
- (c) In accordance with the indemnity provisions of this Agreement, the Client agrees to indemnify and hold GTJAS and the GTJAS Indemnitees harmless against any and all claims for any damages or any kind caused to any third party in connection the US Securities Trading (Segregated Account) Services in the event that GTJAS liquidates positions in the Account pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement.
- (d) The Client expressly waives any rights to receive any prior notice or demand from GTJAS and agrees that any prior demand, notice, announcement or advertisement shall not be deemed a waiver of GTJAS' right to liquidate any positions as a result of violation of Margin requirements applicable to the US Account or violation of risk management requirements applicable to a US Account. The Client understands that in the event that positions are liquidated by GTJAS, the Client shall have no right or opportunity to determine the securities to be liquidated or the order or manner of liquidation. GTJAS may, in its sole discretion, effect a liquidation on an exchange, clearing house, trading venue or other market, and GTJAS or its Affiliates may take the opposite side of such liquidating transaction. In the event that GTJAS liquidates any or all positions in the US Account, such liquidation shall establish the amount of the Client's gain or loss and indebtedness to GTJAS, if any, the Client shall reimburse and hold GTJAS harmless for all actions, omissions, costs, expenses, fees (including, but not limited to, attorney fees), penalties, losses, claims or liabilities associated with any US Securities Trading of the Client. The Client shall be responsible for all resulting losses on the Client's positions, notwithstanding GTJAS' delay in or failure to liquidate any such positions. If GTJAS executes an order for which the US Account did not have sufficient funds, GTJAS has the right, without notice to the Client, to liquidate the trade and the Client shall be responsible for any loss as a result of such liquidation, including any costs, and shall not be entitled to any profit that results from such liquidation.

- (e) The Client acknowledges and agrees that GTJAS will deduct commissions and various other fees (including but not limited to market data fees) from the Account and that such deductions may affect the amount of equity to be applied against the Margin requirements or the risk management requirements for the US Account. Account positions are subject to liquidation as described herein if deduction of commissions, fees or other charges causes the Account to have an insufficient balance to satisfy the Margin requirements or causes a US Account to have an insufficient balance to satisfy the risk management requirements.
- (f) If the system for providing US Securities Trading (Segregated Account) Services, does not, for any reason, effect a liquidation, and GTJAS issues a call to the Client by email or any other method, the Client must satisfy such call immediately. Client acknowledges and confirms that Client will be the only person who can and will access the Client's Account and Client will not allow anyone to access Client's Account. Client is responsible for the confidentiality and use of Client's user name and password and agrees to report any theft or loss of such user name or password, or any unauthorized access to Client's Account, to GTJAS immediately. Client remains responsible for all transactions entered using Client's user name and password.

23. AEOI Compliance

23.1. The Client shall provide to GTJAS, GTJA Group, their agents or service providers, upon request, any documentation or other information regarding the Client and its beneficial owners that GTJAS, GTJA Group, their agents or service providers may require from time to time in connection with their obligations under, and compliance with, applicable laws and regulations including, but not limited to, AEOI. The Client hereby agrees and consents that GTJAS, GTJAS' affiliated companies and their agents and service providers may collect, store and process information obtained from the Client or otherwise in connection with this Agreement and/or the Client's Options transactions for the purposes of complying with AEOI and/or other applicable law, including disclosures between GTJAS and any of them and to the governmental authorities of the United States of America, Hong Kong and/or other jurisdictions. To the extent permitted by law, Client hereby waives any provision of any data protection, privacy, banking secrecy or other law or regulation of any jurisdiction and/or the terms of any confidentiality agreement, arrangement or understanding that would otherwise prevent compliance by GTJAS, GTJAS' affiliated companies and their agents and service providers with AEOI and/or other applicable law. The Client acknowledges that this may include transfers of information to jurisdictions which do not have strict data protection, data privacy laws or banking secrecy laws. The Client shall ensure that, before the Client or anyone on its behalf discloses information relating to any third party to GTJAS, GTJAS' affiliated companies or their agents or service providers in connection with this Agreement or the Client's Options transactions that third party has been provided with such information and has given such consents or waivers as are necessary to allow GTJAS, GTJAS' affiliated companies and their agents and service providers to collect, store, process and disclose his, her or its information as described in this Clause.

23.2. The Client shall upon request by GTJAS confirm to GTJAS (i) whether the Client is a person who is entitled to receive payments free from any deduction or withholding as required by AEOI (the "AEOI Exempt Person"); and (ii) supply to GTJAS such forms, documentation and other information relating to the Client's status under AEOI (including its applicable pass through rate or other information required under the US Treasury Regulations or other official guidance including intergovernmental agreements) as GTJAS reasonably requests for the purposes of that GTJAS' compliance with AEOI (and the compliance of any of GTJA's affiliated companies).

If the Client confirm to GTJAS pursuant to the above that the Client is a AEOI Exempt Person and the Client subsequently becomes aware that the Client is not, or has ceased to be a AEOI Exempt Person, the Client shall notify GTJAS as soon as reasonably practicable.

If the Client fails to confirm its status or to supply forms, documentation or other information requested in accordance with paragraph (a) above (including, for avoidance of doubt, where paragraph (b) above applies), then:

- (i) If the Client failed to confirm whether the Client is (and/or remains) a AEOI Exempt Person then the Client will be treated as if the Client is not a AEOI Exempt Person; and
- (ii) If the Client failed to confirm its applicable pass through rate then the Client will be treated as if its applicable pass through rate is 100%, until such time as the Client provide GTJAS the requested confirmation, forms, documentation or other information.

23.3. If GTJAS is required pursuant to AEOI or otherwise by law to withhold or deduct any AEOI withholding taxes (including any penalties or interest payable in connection with any failure to pay or any delay in paying any such taxes) on any payments to the Client, GTJAS may deduct such taxes. GTJAS will not be required to increase any payment in respect of which GTJAS makes such withholding. The Client shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as if the Client had received the full amount of the payment, without any deduction or withholding. The Client shall provide GTJAS such additional documentation reasonably requested by GTJAS to determine the amount to deduct and withhold from such payment.

24. PERSONAL DATA

24.1. The Client may from time to time be requested by the GTJAS to supply personal data relating to the Client. GTJAS may use the Client's personal data for the purposes stipulated in GTJAS's Personal Information Collection Statement ("PICS"), which has been provided to the Client and is posted on GTJAS's website (www.gtjai.com). The Client acknowledges he or she has read and understand the content of the PICS. The Client agrees that GTJAS may: (1) use such personal data on the terms of and for the purposes set out in the PICS; (2) use such sensitive personal data for the purposes set out in the PICS; and (3) conduct any cross-border transfer of such personal data for the purposes set out in the PICS. The Client further agrees to any revision or amendment that GTJAS may from time to time make in respect of any content of the PICS by notice to the Client.

25. RISK DISCLOSURE STATEMENTS

- 25.1. The following statements are furnished to the Client in accordance with the Code of Conduct for Persons Licensed By or Registered With the Securities and Futures Commission.

Risk of Securities Trading

The prices of securities fluctuate, sometimes dramatically. The price of a security may move up or down, and may become valueless. It is as likely that losses will be incurred rather than profit made as a result of buying and selling securities.

Risk of Trading Futures and Options

The risk of loss in trading futures contracts or Options is substantial. In some circumstances, the Client may sustain losses in excess of the Client's initial margin funds. Placing contingent orders, such as "stop-loss" or "stop-limit" orders, will not necessarily avoid loss. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders. The Client may be called upon at short notice to deposit additional margin funds. If the required funds are not provided within the prescribed time, the Client's position may be liquidated. The Client will remain liable for any resulting deficit in the Client's account. The Client should therefore study and understand futures contracts and Options before the Client trades and carefully consider whether such trading is suitable in the light of the Client's own financial position and investment objectives. If the Client trades Options, GTJAS should inform the Client of exercise and expiration procedures and the Client's rights and obligations upon exercise or expiry.

Risk of Margin Trading

The risk of loss in financing a transaction by deposit of Collateral is significant. The Client may sustain losses in excess of the Collateral. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute contingent orders, such as "stop-loss" or "stop-limit" orders. The Client may be called upon on short notice to make additional margin deposits or interest payments. If the required margin deposits or interest payments are not made within the prescribed time, the Client's Collateral may be liquidated without the Client's consent. Moreover, the Client will remain liable for any resulting deficit in the Margin Account and interest charged thereon. The Client should therefore carefully consider whether such a financing arrangement is suitable in light of the Client's own financial position and investment objectives or to obtain advice from a licensed independent financial advisor.

Risk of Providing an Authority to Repledge Client Securities Collateral etc.

There is a risk if the Client provides GTJAS with an authority that allows it to lend the Client's securities or securities collateral pursuant to a securities borrowing and lending agreement, repledge the Client's securities collateral for financial accommodation or deposit the Client's securities collateral as collateral for the discharge and satisfaction of its settlement obligations and liabilities.

If the Client's securities or securities collateral are received or held by GTJAS in Hong Kong, the above arrangement is allowed only if the Client consent in writing. Moreover, unless the Client is a professional investor, the Client's authority must specify the period for which it is current and be limited to not more than 12 months. If the Client is a professional investor, these restrictions do not apply.

Additionally, the Client's authority may be deemed to be renewed (i.e. without the Client's consent) if GTJAS issues the Client a reminder at least 14 days prior to the expiry of the authority, and the Client does not object to such deemed renewal before the expiry date of the then existing authority.

The Client is not required by any law to sign the authorities. But an authority may be required by GTJAS, for example, to facilitate margin lending to the Client or to allow the Client's securities or securities collateral to be loaned to or deposited as collateral with third parties. GTJAS would explain to the Client the purposes for which one of these authorities is to be used.

If the Client signs one of these authorities and the Client's securities or securities collateral are lent to or deposited with third parties, those third parties will have a lien or charge on the Client securities or securities collateral. Although GTJAS is responsible to the Client for the Client's securities or securities collateral lent or deposited under the authority, a default by GTJAS could result in the loss of the Client's securities or securities collateral.

A cash account not involving securities borrowing and lending is available from most licensed or registered persons. If the Client does not require margin facilities or does not wish the Client's securities or securities collateral to be lent or pledged, the Client should not sign the authorities and should ask to open this type of cash account.

25.2. Additional Risk Disclosure For Options Trading

This brief statement does not disclose all of the risks and other significant aspects of trading in Options. In light of the risks, the Client should undertake such transactions only if the Client understands the nature of the contracts (and contractual relationships) into which the Client is entering and the extent of the Client's exposure to risk. Trading in Options is not suitable for many members of the public. The Client should carefully consider whether trading is appropriate for the Client in light of the Client's experience, objectives, financial resources and other relevant circumstances.

Options

Transactions in Options carry a high degree of risk. Purchasers and sellers of Options should familiarize themselves with the type of Options (i.e. put or call) which they contemplate trading and the associated risks. The Client should calculate the extent to which the value of the Options must increase for the Client's position to become profitable, taking into account the premium and all transaction costs.

The purchaser of Options may offset or exercise the Options or allow the Options to expire. The exercise of an Options results either in a cash settlement or in the purchaser acquiring or delivering the underlying interest. If the Options is on a future, the purchaser will acquire a futures position with associated liabilities for margin. If the purchased Options expire worthless, the Client will suffer a total loss of the Client's investment, which will consist of the Options premium plus transaction costs.

Selling ("writing" or "granting") an Options generally entails considerably greater risk than purchasing Options. Although the premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller may sustain a loss well in excess of that amount. The seller will be liable for additional margin to maintain the position if the market moves unfavorably.

The seller will also be exposed to the risk of the purchaser exercising the Options and the seller will be obligated to either settle the Options in cash or to acquire or deliver the underlying interest. If the Options is on a future, the seller will acquire a position in a future with associated liabilities for margin. If the Options is "covered" by the seller holding a corresponding position in the underlying interest or a future or another Options, the risk may be reduced.

Certain exchanges in some jurisdictions permit deferred payment of the Options premium, exposing the purchaser to liability for margin payments not exceeding the amount of the premium. The purchaser is still subject to the risk of losing the premium and transaction costs. When the Options is exercised or expires, the purchaser is responsible for any unpaid premium outstanding at that time.

25.3. Additional Risks Common to Futures and Options

Terms and conditions of contracts: The Client should ask the firm with which the Client deals about the terms and conditions of the specific futures or Options which the Client is trading and associated obligations (e.g. the circumstances under which the Client may become obliged to make or take delivery of the underlying interest of a futures contract and, in respect of Options, expiration dates and restrictions on the time for exercise). Under certain circumstances the specifications of outstanding contracts (including the exercise price of an Options) may be modified by the exchange or clearing house to reflect changes in the underlying interest.

Suspension or restriction of trading and pricing relationships: Market conditions (e.g. illiquidity) and/or the operation of the rules of certain markets (e.g. the suspension of trading in any contract or contract month because of price limits or "circuit breakers") may increase the risk of loss by making it difficult or impossible to effect transactions or liquidate/offset positions. If the Client has sold Options, this may increase the risk of loss.

Further, normal pricing relationships between the underlying interest and the future, and the underlying interest and the Options may not exist. This can occur when, for example, the futures contract underlying the Options is subject to price limits while the Options is not. The absence of an underlying reference price may make it difficult to judge "fair" value.

Deposited cash and property: The Client should familiarize himself/herself with the protections accorded money or other property the Client deposits for domestic and foreign transactions, particularly in the event of a firm insolvency or bankruptcy. The extent to which the Client may recover the Client's money or property may be governed by specific legislation or local rules. In some jurisdictions, property, which had been specifically identifiable as the Client's own, will be pro-rated in the same manner as cash for purposes of distribution in the event of a shortfall.

Commission and other charges: Before the Client begins to trade, the Client should obtain a clear explanation of all commission, fees and other charges for which the Client will be liable. These charges will affect the Client's net profit (if any) or increase the Client's loss.

Transactions in other jurisdictions: Transactions on markets in other jurisdictions, including markets formally linked to a domestic market, may expose the Client to additional risk. Such markets may be subject to regulation, which may offer different or diminished investor protection. Before the Client trades, the Client should enquire about any rules relevant to the Client's particular transactions. The Client's local regulatory authority will be unable to compel the enforcement of the rules of regulatory authorities or markets in other jurisdictions where the Client's transactions have been effected. The Client should ask the firm with which the Client deals with for details about the types of redress available in both the Client's home jurisdiction and other relevant jurisdictions before the Client starts to trade.

Currency risks: The profit or loss in transactions in foreign currency-denominated contracts (whether they are traded in the Client's own or another jurisdiction) will be affected by fluctuations in currency rates where there is a need to convert from the currency denomination of the contract to another currency.

Trading facilities: Most electronic trading facilities are supported by computer-based component systems for the order-routing, execution, matching, registration or clearing of trades. As with all facilities and systems, they are vulnerable to temporary disruption or failure. The Client's ability to recover certain losses may be subject to limits on liability imposed by the system provider, the market, the clearing house and/or member firms. Such limits may vary: the Client should ask the firm with which the Client deals for details in this respect.

Electronic trading: If the Client undertakes transactions on an electronic trading system, the Client will be exposed to risks associated with the system including the failure of hardware and software. The result of any system failure may be that the Client's order is either not executed according to the Client's Instruction or is not executed at all.

Off-exchange transactions: In some jurisdictions, and only then in restricted circumstances, firms are permitted to effect off-exchange transactions. The firm with which the Client deals with may be acting as the Client's counterparty to the transaction. It may be difficult or impossible to liquidate an existing position, to assess the value, to determine a fair price or to assess the exposure to risk. For these reasons, these transactions may involve increased risks. Off-exchange transactions may be less regulated or subject to a separate regulatory regime. Before the Client undertakes such transactions, the Client should familiarize himself/herself with applicable rules and attendant risks.

- 25.4. The Client acknowledges that due to the volatile nature of securities markets, the purchase and writing and writing of options over securities involves a high degree of risk.

Warning to Option Holders

The Client understands that some options may only be exercised on an expiry day (European-style exercise) and that other options may be exercised at any time before expiration (American-style exercise). The Client understands that upon exercise some options require delivery and receipt of the underlying securities and that other options require a cash payment.

The Client is aware that an option is a wasting asset and there is a possibility that as an option holder you may suffer the loss of the total premium paid for the option. The Client is aware that as an option holder in order to realize a profit it will be necessary to either exercise the option or close the long option position in the market. Under some circumstances it may be difficult to trade the option due to lack of liquidity in the market. The Client is also aware that GTJAS has no obligation either to exercise a valuable option in the absence of the Client's instruction or to give to the Client prior notice of the expiration date of the option.

Warning to Option Writers

The Client is also aware that as a writer of any option the Client may be required to pay additional margin at any time. The Client is aware that as an option writer, unlike an option holder, the Client may be liable for unlimited losses based on the rise or fall of the price of the underlying securities and the Client's gains are limited to the option premium.

Additionally, writers of American-style call (put) options may be required at any time before expiry to deliver (pay for) the underlying securities to the full value of the strike price multiplied by the number of underlying securities. The Client recognizes that this obligation may be wholly disproportionate to the value of premium received at the time the options were written and may be required at short notice.

25.5. Additional Risk Disclosure

Credit Risk of GTJAS

Where we have borrowed, pledged, re-pledge, hypothecated, re-hypothecated or created security interest over assets in Client's Account to the extent permitted by law, Client will not retain any proprietary interest in such assets. In the event that GTJAS becomes insolvent, Client will become one of GTJAS' unsecured creditors with only an unsecured contractual claim against GTJAS to claim the value of the asset. What the Client will receive in respect of any debt owed to the Client by GTJAS will depend on the assets available to the creditors of GTJAS after any insolvency procedures have been completed, and the debt may not be repaid in full, or at all.

Credit Risk of GTJAS' executing broker / custodian

In respect of securities traded in overseas markets, GTJAS may engage third party executing brokers and custodians, which may or may not be an Affiliate to GTJAS, to execute and clear the trades. GTJAS will exercise due care in the selection of such brokers and custodians but will not be responsible for any loss incurred by the Client as a result of any default (including insolvency) of such executing brokers or custodians. GTJAS and its Affiliates shall in no event be liable for any loss suffered or incurred by the Client in connection with the Agreement or anything whatsoever which may be suffered as a result of any default, insolvency, act or omission of the such executing brokers and custodians or any person, firm or company through or with whom transactions are effected for the Account.

Risk of Customer's Assets Received or Held outside Hong Kong

The Client's assets received or held by GTJAS outside Hong Kong are subject to the applicable laws and regulations of the relevant overseas jurisdiction which may be different from the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Chapter 571 of the Laws of Hong Kong) and the rules made thereunder. Consequently, such client assets may not enjoy the same protection as that conferred on client assets received or held in Hong Kong.

26. COMMUNICATIONS

- 26.1. The Client confirms that all information provided to GTJAS (in an account opening form or by other means) is, to the best of his knowledge, complete, accurate and up-to-date. The Client agrees that GTJAS may use any contact details provided by the Client and kept on its records (including address, telephone number, email address and fax number) from time to time to communicate with the Client (whether through letters, telephone calls, SMS, fax, email or other means).
- 26.2. Items sent to the Client or delivered to his authorised representative are sent or delivered at the Client's own risk.
- 26.3. All communications from the Client to GTJAS have to be given in such manner and by such means to such location specified by GTJAS from time to time. Communications sent by the Client to GTJAS will be considered as having been received by GTJAS on the day of actual receipt.
- 26.4. If the Account is in joint names of two or more persons, any notice communication from the Client to GTJAS will be considered as effective notification on it only if given by each of the aforesaid persons (unless GTJAS has agreed to other authorisation arrangement) or the survivors, and any notice under this Agreement to any of the aforesaid persons will be considered as effective notification to the Client.

26.5. This Clause does not limit or reduce the effect of any provisions in this Agreement that apply to (i) the issuing of contract notes, statements of account or transaction advice by GTJAS to the Client, or (ii) the giving of Instructions by the Client to GTJAS.

27. THIRD PARTY RIGHTS

A person who is not a party to this Agreement has no right under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Ordinance (Cap. 623) to enforce or to enjoy the benefit of any term of this Agreement.

28. SEVERABILITY

If any provision of this Agreement shall be held to be invalid or unenforceable by any court or regulatory agency or body, such invalidity or unenforceability shall attach only to such provision. The validity of the remaining provisions shall not be affected thereby and this Agreement shall be carried out as if any such invalid or unenforceable provision were not contained here. Time shall be of the essence in relation to all matters arising under this Agreement. Where the Clients consist of more than one person, the liability of each of the Clients shall be joint and several and references to us shall be construed, as the context requires, to any or each of the Clients. GTJAS shall be entitled to deal separately with any of the Clients including the discharge of any liabilities to any extent without affecting the liability of the others.
